Jason,

I just got off the phone with Tom about this site. Looking at the air photo, USGS map and original government survey maps I have determined that the waterway is not a navigable waterway. I didn't make a site visit but you stated that the waterway is cropped right through it which leads me to believe it doesn't have a defined bed and bank. A defined bed and bank is another criteria required in order to be considered a navigable waterway.

I hope this helps.

Scott,

I believe there was a navigability determination done by Dan Hunt back in 2011 for the intermittent stream north of CTH BB. We ran into that issue when dealing with a neighboring violation. My understanding from Dan's email was that the stream segment shown through the cropped areas in the field was non-navigable. That would put this property out of the shoreland zone. Judging from the photos it doesn't appear that the project would trigger our erosion control permit.

This property has a history of flooding and drainage issues. Mark Lewis left me a voicemail this morning regarding the shoreland erosion control permit. I'll give him a call back to discuss the scope of his project.

Thanks,

Jason

Jason,

The owner at 3031 County Highway BB has removed the culvert in his driveway and is planning to replace it with a 24" culvert.

Spoke with Mark (owner at 3031 County Highway BB) and Informed him that a shore land zoning and erosion control permits will be required for replacing the existing culvert. See attached photos.

Hi, this isn't exactly a zoning question but you will probably know who to refer it to.

The resident at 3023 County BB is complaining that the owner of 3031 County BB has made some changes to his driveway that are diverting water to 3023, resulting in flooding in the back yard and basement of 3023. He says if the power goes out for an hour his basement will have a foot of water in it. I had our Highway Superintendent take a look and he said the work to the driveway is up close to the house, not in the road right-of-way, so the Town has no jurisdiction. Can someone from the County take a look to see if the owner of 3031 County BB is causing water problems for the neighbors? This property has a history of flooding, is right where a culvert comes under BB.
